AT THE SIGN OF THE SPYGLASS.

When I had done breakfasting, the squire gave me a note addressed to John Silver, at the sign of the Spyglass, and told me it would easily find the place by following the line of the docks, and keeping a good lookout for [illegible]

[illegible] the tavern in question. [illegible] The sign was newly painted, the windows had neat red [illegible] the floor was cleanly sanded. "I was engaged, sir, on [illegible] call that fair, now, do you?" "No," said Dr. Livesey, "I don't." "Next," said the captain, "I learn we [illegible] is ticklish work; [illegible] like them, above all, when they are secret, and when (begging your pardon, Mr. Trelawney) the secret has [illegible] belief that neither of you gentlemen know what you are about; but I'll tell you my way of it—life or death, and a close run."

"That is all clear, and, I dare say, true enough [illegible] tide!"

"You may go below, my man. [illegible]"

"Very likely, sir," replied Capt. Smollett. "Easy with that, man—easy," he ran on, to the fellows who were [illegible] suddenly observing the examining the [illegible] we carried amidships, a long brass nine—"Here, you ship's boy," he cried, "out o' that! Off with you to the cook and get some work."

And then, as I was hurrying off, I heard him say, quite loudly, to the doctor [illegible]

Assure you I was quite of the squire's way of thinking, and hated the captain deeply.

CHAPTER X.

THE VOYAGE.

All that night we were in a great bustle getting things stowed in their place, and boatfuls of the squire's friends, Mr. Blandly and the like, [illegible] off to wish him a good voyage and a safe return. We never had a night at the Admiral Benbow when I had half the work, and we was dog-tired when, a little before dawn, the boatswain began to man the capstan-bars. I might have been twice as weary; yet I would not [illegible] and interesting to me—the brief commands, the shrill notes [illegible] the men bustling to their places in the glimmer of the ship's lanterns.

"Now, Barbecue, up us a stave," cried one voice.

"The old one," cried another.

"Yes, yes, mates," said Long John, who was standing by, with his crutch under his arm, and [illegible] in the air and words I knew so well:

"Fifteen men on the dead man's chest—
Yo-ho-ho, and a bottle of rum!"

And at the third "ho!" above the bars, before them with a will.

Even at that exciting moment it carried me back to the old Admiral Benbow in a second; and I seemed to hear the voice of the captain piping in the chorus. But soon the anchor was short up; soon it was hanging dripping at the bows; [illegible] and begun his voyage to the Isle of Treasure.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

[illegible] Brown and Ritter, who were opposing Sisson and McCauley, Republicans, for State Treasurer and Auditor General, [illegible] for State Treasurer, notwithstanding [illegible] the head of their own [illegible] Democratic as Republican [illegible]

Brown and Ritter, the Democratic candidates, carried the counties of Berks, Clarion, Elk, Fulton, Greene, Luzerne, Lehigh, Monroe, Northampton, Pike and York.

The Prohibitionists carried Blair, Clinton, Dauphin, Lycoming, Northumberland, Clearfield, Cumberland, Montour and Huntingdon counties, the remaining [illegible]

[illegible] sacrificed their own candidates, both highly respected citizens to no purpose, and have struck party organization a blow, from the effects of which it will [illegible]

[illegible] Carr, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, was elected by a majority of about 25,000, Low coming in second best. Alton B. Parker, the Democratic candidate for Chief Justice of the State, [illegible] the state by a plurality of 30,000. The Legislature remains Republican.

The result in Ohio is close. Both parties claimed the State yesterday. Republicans say the State is safe by 9,000 plurality. Boss Hanna claims the Republican ticket [illegible] on the ballot which ensures his election to the United States Senate. On the other hand leading Democrats claim the State and say an official count will [illegible] Republican majority [illegible] 30,000. The Legislature will [illegible] largely in the Hanna District. Visited by Mr. Bryan, Ohio Democrats attribute their success in reducing Republican majorities in the cities of Toledo, Cleveland, Cincinnati, and have already named him for Presidential candidate in 1900.

In both New Jersey and Maryland the Legislature is in doubt, and it will take some days and perhaps the official count to determine the result, though the Democrats claim a working majority in both States.

Virginia and Kentucky polled a light vote, leading up normal Democratic majorities.

The tabulated returns will be found in another place, and will show the vote of Tioga county.

WAR WITH SPAIN, PERHAPS.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington says there is no longer any [illegible] United States will be broken in the near [illegible] this opinion to several persons [illegible] recently, and Assistant Secretary [illegible] known to have said that President McKinley will resent any effort on the part [illegible]

A prominent member of one of the European legations at Washington said in private conversation the other day: "War would be extremely hazardous [illegible] capital to express any [illegible] opinion concerning foreign affairs, with which his government has officially nothing to do. I will say that the opinion is unanimous in the diplomatic corps that President Cleveland and President McKinley have done more to preserve peace and to prevent clamoring against public clamor, than any monarch would have done. Your Presidents are more origins in international affairs."

[illegible] knowledge of the views of diplomats at the capitol, he could say with positiveness that Spain will not have the sympathy of any European government, except that of Austria. All the others, the gentleman said, are [illegible] that the United States has done its duty in every respect.

Chairman Hill, of the Committee on Foreign Affairs and Speaker Reed favor the recognition of the Cubans as belligerents. President McKinley can not continue his endeavor to resist public sentiment. More than this, it is believed in Washington that a reply will be made to the Spanish note, due before New Year's Day, one which will undoubtedly result in the severance of diplomatic relations between the two countries. Whether war will follow this [illegible] Conservative men believe that there will be arbitration and a peaceful settlement of the question. It all depends upon the government at Madrid. But while the government at Washington is desirous of securing a peaceful solution of the question, it is believed the Cuban problem will soon become past history. It will be settled peacefully within the next two months, unless the Spanish Government [illegible] shall insist upon [illegible] warships and the spilling of blood in making such settlement, and finally [illegible]

Spain is in a deplorable condition. Her treasury is empty, [illegible] and the country [illegible] Atlantic [illegible] so that it turned [illegible]

[illegible] about and for this reason it is almost safe to presume that there will [illegible] war. Cuba will secure independence [illegible] the Spanish will soon cool down and [illegible] to secure the cool will of [illegible]

[illegible] himself as a candidate for Gov[illegible] has resigned [illegible] Prohibition State Convention. He says he [illegible] much hesitation [illegible] after much pleading [illegible] candidate. [illegible]

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND became an uncle for the [illegible] boy last Thursday. [illegible] Cleveland's joy [illegible] congratulation. [illegible]

[illegible] GEORGE, the Jeffersonian Democrat [illegible] New York, died [illegible] about 5 o'clock Friday morning, [illegible] of the sudden and [illegible] spoke at several evening meetings. [illegible] about 11 o'clock, ate a light supper and immediately retired. About 3 o'clock [illegible] by hearing her husband moan faintly, as if in pain. He was then sitting in a rocker. She arose [illegible] found him in a dying condition. [illegible] was quickly summoned, but he died [illegible] about 5 o'clock. The terrible strain of the campaign [illegible] George was but 58 years of age. [illegible] the printer's trade. Landing in California in 1858, he obtained work in a newspaper office and worked at the case setting type until 1866, when he [illegible] 1880, he made two trips to England during the year and was twice arrested as his identity was discovered. He was personally known to [illegible] his works upon economical questions notably, "Progress and Poverty," "Our Land and Land Policy," "Irish Land Question," "Social Problems" and "Property in Land."

THE sudden and almost tragic death of Henry George, materially assisted in the [illegible] candidate for Mayor of Greater New York. Although Henry George, Jr., was placed at the head of the ticket in place of his father, by the Jeffersonian Democrats, he was unable to retain the support of the men who had rallied around his father. This support was largely drawn from Tammany and when Mr. George died the voters drifted back in the fold. [illegible] result would undoubtedly have been different.

THE recent visit of Gov. Pingree, of Michigan, to the Tioga county [illegible] the purpose of inspecting the new coal fields, and ascertaining if he could obtain control of one or two of the coal mines in that county. After the visit of the governor, [illegible] Colonel Sutton began negotiations for the control of the mine of Fernales. Another representative of the Governor will visit the State of Zulia to inspect an asphaltum mine, and still another has left for Colombia on the same mission.

[illegible] aroused over the abuse of the power of licensing. In revoking the license of a detective the other day, Judge Gordon said [illegible] all right, so long as he does not become corrupt and tyrannical in his proceedings. Judge [illegible] sounds a warning note that should [illegible] of private detectives, and if it does not the law authorizing their existence will be radically modified. In sad there is a call for this as matters stand.

CITY AID does all its work in a wholesale manner. One day last week the chief of police of the Carter Harrison administration issued an order discharging 300 policemen at one sweep of the official guillotine and appointing other men in the same number to fill the places of the policemen, who had been discharged by an ukase of the late Republican chief of police, who dismissed over 500 Democrats. [illegible] of striking back and political human nature. In both instances the interests of the city appear to have been a secondary matter. They could hardly be [illegible] by such wholesale changes in [illegible] whom made.

[illegible] Tuesday afternoon while making an impromptu speech in Tammany Hall, New York. Mr. Cummings was Chairman of the City Democratic Campaign Committee. His death was probably due to [illegible] the campaign through which he had just passed, was the most exciting in the [illegible] he was a fearless advocate of [illegible] death the party sustains a severe loss. He was one of the brightest newspaper men in the country, [illegible] editor of the New York Sun to take a seat in the House of Representatives.

TRADE in coke is picking up perceptibly. The Connellsville Courier in its [illegible] said last week: [illegible] of the blowing in of so many ovens the week previous bringing the production up [illegible] of the operation and output for the Connellsville region for the week ending October [illegible] and 3,556 idle. The estimated product [illegible] compared with 151,633 tons the week previous, a gain of 6,000 tons. Many additional ovens were put in blast. This shows a good healthy increase and the return of good times will be welcomed by the thousands of miners and coke burners.

[illegible] & Hudson River Railroad Company, are [illegible] of the opinion that last week's [illegible] wreck on that road was caused [illegible] the use of dynamite. Divers made a careful examination of the large and powerful locomotive, of the 999 class, which lay bottom side up in the mud under sixty feet of water and made the startling discovery [illegible] This proves conclusively that the driver of the ill-fated engine either saw an obstruction on the track [illegible] or was by an explosion. Just what that unfortunate man saw will never [illegible] the rails, but a machine of great power and destruction when off of them. President [illegible] of three who hold to [illegible]

The death of Charles A. [illegible] Dr. Field is now [illegible] for years to come. THE TEACHERS HAVE GONE.

Closing Days of the Institute—Interesting Topics Discussed.

The GAZETTE'S report of the Institute [illegible] last Wednesday. The [illegible] Thursday afternoon's session [illegible] certain "Guiding Principles in [illegible] ing Literature," as follows: 1.—Take time for teaching the subject. The problem of time is one of the most perplexing [illegible] have to solve. 2.—Introduce in some way. A good way is in [illegible] with the reading lesson. Teachers often conduct this lesson without a word as to the author of the selection read. Another way is to [illegible] the birthdays of authors. Pennsylvania [illegible] should observe January 11th and March 12th, the respective birthdays of Bayard Taylor and T. B. Reed, both of whom were born in Chester [illegible] Bryant and Holmes will not, of course, be forgotten. Let prominent events in the careers of living authors be [illegible] example, the appointment as Ambassador to Great Britain of John Hay, who wrote "Little Breeches." 3.—Get and give the best. "We spend our time based on 'if we use it in reading any but the best [illegible] no particular harm [illegible] as a [illegible] not in scrappy bits. 5.—Aim at intensity, rather than extensiveness; thoroughness in whatever you undertake. 6.—Allow none to claim acquaintance with literature because of knowing a few titles and dates. 7.—Cultivate a love for the language in which the selection was originally written. 8.—Get at the [illegible] Longfellow for instance [illegible] geniality; Daniel Webster [illegible] to sum up, submit to the book. THE WEDDING RING.

Preserve my Honor from the dust and Dante bright and new.
For some one might inquire, you know, about these pearls of Ophir
Who hid in mountain deeps of words their scattered thoughts of gold.

Like Longfellow, then I seek some bard "whose songs gushed from his heart."
Lowell's "First Show Fall,"
Or "Highland Mary" by Bob. These please me more than all.

They seem to nurture sympathy and [illegible]

the deaths in the profession have been suicide. It has been suggested that an explanation of this tendency may be
[illegible]
[illegible] in the mind of a doctor, on
[illegible]

[illegible]
The original treaty as sent to the Senate, it is understood, was amended by a process to be amended by Senator
Stewart so as to include [illegible]
of the dispute relating to the [illegible]
eastern line. If such an amendment were insisted upon by the Senate, as
[illegible]
[illegible] Canada was fixed, according to the
[illegible] ten marine leagues from the coast

[illegible] But in the determination
[illegible] intricate questions are involved;
whether the coast line shall be assumed
to follow the sinuosities of the shore or run from headland to headland; or [illegible] line shall be considered to
[illegible] the outer shore of the islands [illegible] the coast. The Government officials who have studied the question are confident that our title includes the islands and what the most exaggerated reports indicate. This being the case, it is the duty of this Government to take steps [illegible] to settle the boundary line between the Canadian and United States possessions. The prospectors and men who are familiar with that [illegible]
